

ABSTRACT

Recruitment activity practice assistant at the Faculty of Applied Sciences is a practice assistant recruitment activity for each practice subject. Yet centralized recruitment process consists of the dissemination of information, registration of candidates practice assistant, written tests until graduation announcements practice assistant, result practical process is not accompanied by practice assistant to two weeks. Making SK of the practicum assistant is too much, result practice assistants who have yet to get a SK practice assistant until the end of the semester, so that inhibiting the process of disbursement salary practice assistant. Therefore, application of recruitment practice assistant web-based has features to perform recruitment practice assistant to making SK practicum assistant.

Applications built using tools Netbeans version 8.0, using the programming language PHP and CodeIgniter framework, also Oracle 11g as the database server. Develop method using SDLC with Waterfall model. Design system using Unified Modeling Language (UML), and will be tested with Blackbox testing. With the Recruitment Practice Assistant Application can help recruitment practice assistant activities that are useful to support the process practicum student at the Faculty of Applied Sciences Telkom University.

Keywords : Practice, practice assistant, recruitment.