

ABSTRACT

Many people who do not know of dyslexia, it resulted in many children suffering from dyslexia are not handled in accordance with the conditions. Besides therapy and specific learning media dyslexic children are still little and if there is a price tend to be expensive. Due to the specific instructional media dyslexic child is still small, the author aims to make book illustrations for dyslexic children. The process of data collection in the design of this illustrated book using the qualitative methods of literature study, interview and observation. With the design illustrated book is expected to attract a dyslexic child in learning to read, and gives a media that can be used by therapists, teachers and parents at a more affordable cost.

Keywords:

Children with Special Needs, Dyslexia, Learning Media, Specific Learning Difficulties.