

Abstract

Design Of Children Library & Learning Centre In Bandung With Approach The Characteristics Of Child Development

Sajida Azzuhra

1403120096

Children's time is the time they developed and important period in which children learn a lot about everything. The learning process in children can be started from the immediate environment such as family and also the surrounding environment. On their learning process was introduced with a variety of media such as learning, books, audio visual, and activities that increase skills and stimulate creativity. For it takes a container that hold and able to enhance the creativity of children in order to develop positively. The container in the form library and learning centre (Children Library & Learning Centre) specifically for a child who has an educational function by providing information that is educational.

Study supporting facilities and activities is still very rarely observed and applied in Indonesia, while in developed countries it is highly developed and become essentials. The design of the Children Library & Learning Centre is located in Bandung, which is the place to be creative, but child support facilities of creativity for children is still lacking.

The facility is expected to be fun for the child so that it can help boost interest in reading, interest and talent in children, as well as gain experience that is useful in their personal development. Interior design Children Library & Learning Centre in Bandung with approach characteristic of child development as a concept and theme of "explor the park" as a desian will be applied with in terms of elements, colors and shapes, functions that meet the space requirements in accordance with the characteristics of child development in General.

Keywords: Children Library, Learning Centre, The Characteristic Of Child Development, children facility