

Abstraction

Wireless Application Protocol (WAP) representing step of early going to Internet Mobile, enabling a ponsel can access internet. Basically WAP is a communications standard between mobile device telephone with information of exist in internet. So, The information obtainable any time and any where. Operation Walking at Student Academic Information Access System contain information of academic student so that the student earn to know value of subject, IP Semester, IP TPB, IP Sarjana muda, IP Sarjana and IPK. Student Academic Information Access System will be provided facility Login Asking For NIM (Nomor Induk Mahasiswa) and password to take care of information security to be given. furthermore WAP Gateway will check last authenticity login attributed to server of bases of data of information system of majors and run process furthermore as according to menu selected by student. Result of process will be presented at pertinent ponsel student.

WAP define language of markup WML (Wireless Markup Language). In its development, expected in the last assignment can develop at mechanism supporting application WAP emphasizing at added value.

Key word : Wireless Application Protocol (WAP), WAP Gateway, Wireless Markup Language (WML), Student Academic Information Access System