ABSTRACT

Raqqi Consulting is a service company engaged in psychological consultation which has a lot of psychological services. Handling payroll Raqqi Consulting there are errors in managing the schedule of working hours and salary calculation is based on article 21 of Income Tax. This makes the company and its employees make trouble, because all the activities of the accounting records are still kept manually by using Microsoft Excel, it needed a web-based application that is capable of handling the appropriate accounting standards have been determined. Applications that will be created will use the concept of object-oriented programming in PHP language and coding phase of the program that is using CodeIgniter framework with MySQL server that will be tested black box texting.

Keywords: Web-based applications, Income Tax Article 21, Framework