

Abstract

Designing the Illustrated Book about History of the Entry of Islam in Indonesia

Fatimah Nuurusa'adah

Visual Communication Design Major, Faculty of Creative Industries

Telkom University

NIM : 1401130493

Diversity will always become part of every society groups, and it's also happen to the Indonesian society. Religious diversity is one of it. Currently 87.2% of Indonesia's populations are Moslems, this is representing 12.9% from all Moslem around the world and it makes Indonesia become a country with the largest Moslem population. But this percentage is not representing knowledge of Indonesian Moslem about their religion, many adherents of the teachings of Islam, still needs a medium of learning, especially for the children, while the children is the successor of the survival of this nation. Therefore, the authors decided to design an illustrated book as the medium is effective as a messenger for the children so they will know the history of the entry of their religion to the archipelago.

Keywords : Illustrated book, History, Religion of Islam.