

ABSTRACT

Organization Student Executive Board (BEM) Student organization (ORMAWA) is a container of self-actualization and self-improvement in order to increase softskills and student leadership character. Every once a year BEM holds elections to replace the old organizational stewardship. Usually to replace the old stewardship then held elections to determine who will lead the next is by way of coblos. In modern times the coblos are probably old fashioned and should be replaced in a more modern way by E-voting. An electoral system in which data is recorded, stored and processed in the form of digital information. In other words, e-voting is a voting process that starts from voter registration, voting, voting and voting is done electronically (digitally). The solution provided is to make the E-voting application helpful in the vote counting. This application is named Application of General Election of Student Executive Board of Faculty of Applied Sciences of Telkom University which will assist in calculating the election vote and also giving information about election to the student
