

ABSTRACT

The station is the place where passengers line up to use general public facilities, train, station's user do various transaction of ticket purchases and exchange. Pasar Senen Station is one of the major stations in Jakarta. The station is a heritage building that has developed in front of the building so that the building is not fully heritage buildings. Pasar Senen station become to alternative transportation that used to accommodate the Jakarta citizen's activities and needs. With the increasing number of users of train services it needs upgrading to support the activity of station in accordance with the standardization of PT. KAI. The public facilities in the station is an important thing to note, therefore Pasar Senen Station will be redesigned for the comfort and safety of users of railway services in accordance with the standards of PT.KAI. The application of concepts and themes at Pasar Senen Station is taken of the problems that occur in the station. The design theme of "locality" which means designing with taking elements of local locality that is characteristic of the station.