

ABSTRACT

In globalization era use communications technology such as mobile phones and gadgets has become a secondary need for users. However, excessive use of mobile phones and gadgets can lead to the weakening of mobile phone battery power. Facilities public like charger station into a place user needs. In the room or outdoor, Charger station product will have different shapes, colors and different materials. Because charger station product will be placed in the area in Bandung city that has a temperature and humid weather and cold then the product charger station that is placed on the outside of the room must use materials that can survive both at temperature and weather in Bandung, so that products can be used in a long time. The material aspect are used for material selection, that is because to suit the product.

Key Words: Gadget, General Facilities, Charger Station, Bandung, Material