

ABSTRACT

The development of information technology has gained a role in society. One is the information media used to make ends meet the needs of community accommodation while traveling and the media information is also used by accommodation service providers in managing its data. Therefore built a Web Based Application of Hotels Reservation Management in Bandung. This application has features for online reservations that can be used by consumers, onsite reservation used by hotel managers, check in and check out, guests data management, facilities data and room data, to preparing reports. Web Based Application of Hotels Reservation Management built using the CodeIgniter framework and the MySQL database.

Keywords: Accommodation, Reservation, Checkin, Checkout, Framework