

ABSTRACT

This research's goal to find out the roles of whatsapp group on the communication between teacher and parents. The whatsapp group studied for this research is class 1E Birrul Walidain Muhammadiyah Sragen elementary school. The selection of class because parents don't know much about activities in Birrul elementary school, so the communication that happened in the group become intense.

This research's uses qualitative methods, by gathering information from the result of interview with teacher and parents. Researcher joining to the group's members to analyze communication between teacher and parents. The research used Computer Mediated Communication Theory to describe the roles of whatsapp group communication between teacher and parents.

The result of this research shows the role of Whatsapp group is important for the communication between teacher and parents. For teacher, it can be facilitate communication to parents. While parents will get the latest information from school.

Keywords: Whatsapp Group, Computer Mediated Communication Theory, Teacher and Parents