

Abstract

Education is a teaching and learning process that can produce changes in everything including behavior, attitudes and intellectual changes. Education is a learning process to be better than before. Education also aims to help achieve maturity of mindset and interact with the environment

Schools are buildings or institutions for learning and teaching and places to receive and give lessons according to their level. Automotive Development Vocational High School is a teaching and learning activity and has facilities and is ready to employ students and students if in the world of work.

Overall the Development school is pretty good but still has shortcomings, 1) Space organization is not in accordance with the activity, 2) Furniture facilities in the study room are not yet in accordance with the standards, 3) Acoustic conditioning in the workshop room.
