

ABSTRACT

"Information system of goods supply And sales PD. Setiadi Jaya Rubber Bandung" representing a information system handling problems that happened at department of suply and goods sale, operating in PD Setiadi Jaya Rubber Moving at area of printing office rubber.

This system use in general be addressed to facilitate work of sales department and goods supply so that the parts of this earn to get required information swiftly. This matter is more better of course when compared by a data processor in the manual which still be used by this company hitherto. Besides above mentioned of this application use addressed to facilitate making of report of sale and report of goods supply to be delivered to company head, so that the information which have processed earn made as reference in taking furthermore decision in running and improve performance from this company.

Final project for information system of goods supply and sales builded with using analyse and the scheme which structure with using waterfall modelling. Application constructor that is used is Borland Delphi 6.0 Utilizing pascal as programing language, while for application of database used constructor software Microsoft SQL Server 2000 Personal And Power Designer 6.0 used for system.modelling.

Key word : Information System, good supply, sales, database