

ABSTRACT

Nowadays, english is very important to learn. As international languages, english is useful to communicate for distributing information as various language connector in the world. As effort to learn English, it needed some test to know how much level we understanding of English. Nowadays, TOEFL test is one of effective solution to know how much level we understanding of English.

People can learn TOEFL by some media like TOEFL CD, TOEFL software and many others. But this media not implements e - learning concept because there are no teacher can help and control in learning process. So, because of this reason, there need some teacher to help students of learning English.

This website will give something that useful to learn English especially about TOEFL which is use a e-Learning concept The purpose of this website is to help learning process to increase understanding of English especially about TOEFL with implements e-Learning concept.

Keyword : website, TOEFL, English Languages, e- Learning