

ABSTRACT

In order to give fulfilled of user requirement for sending message easily on time, to backup the data of message easier, and to arrange organized message, there is an application which is needed to fulfil those user's desires.

Final Project is designed with title "SMS Organizer and Backup Development on Android Platform" has functionality, such as sending message automatically on scheduled time, and to backup short message not only in the memory card, but also store and keep it in the server so that the backup result of short message is safer, if there is a time when that message would be deleted in android smartphone.

keywords: backup, server, memory card , android