

ABSTRACT
INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION CHILD MARRIAGE AGAIN DUE TO BROKEN HOME IN THE FAMILY

By :
Jourdy Pranata
1204110080

The family is one of a group or set of people who live together as a single unit of blood relationship is established, the marriage bond, or other bonds. In a family of a child will get a provision to socialize with the outside world. Of course it takes a harmonious family in order to form the individual is good for a child. But the family is not uncommon in a dispute and confusion among family members. It is considered quite normal that there is a difference of opinion, disagreements within the family, because in it there are many different ideas. Strife and commotion can cause divorce of parents in the family. Divorce in a family would have caused a lot of losers, especially children. Divorce would result in a child's lack of affection from both parents. Many single parents who do not menginkan it to happen to their child. Remarriage is one way that is often performed by a single parent to save his son from a lack of affection. This certainly requires a child adapting to new people in a family. Interpersonal communication is the most effective way to adapt to a stepparent in the family. In order to create a harmonious and harmonious family.

Keywords: Interpersonal Communication, Children Broken Home, Family