

ABSTRACT

Android operating system which is made from Google Inc. increasingly widespread use by many people because it has so much interesting features and large variety of application. There are a lot of development of Android, one of development is in the field of travel services. In this final project, an application designed to make an online reservation. This application is great to be made because there's no application like this before which implemented on a travel company and it can replace the conventional way of ticket reservation.

This application works is fairly simple, to determine the nearest outlet, smartphone will use the GPS to determine the user location, and then this application will show Google Maps to the user which has included the marker of nearest outlet around user. And if user had been registered as a member, user can make an online reservation directly with this application.

By using this application, finding the nearest outlet around user and make a reservation will be easier. Along with the increasing of travel company industry, hopefully this application can make your trip easier.

Keyword: application, smartphone Android, nearest outlet, GPS, Google Maps, and travel company.