ABSTRACT

Nowadays on the election of chairman Land Cruisers Makassar. There are several obstacles that members can not be present in the election, there is more advantages of ballot paper. E – voting Application for Chairman of Land Cruisers Makassar – Android based is an application enabling to assist in the election. The application was created by using SDLC Waterfall Method with the PHP programming language on the website and Java on Android, and tested by using the blackbox method. This application development are based on website and Android is used to manage members, approve candidates for the chairman and count the election results. Android on the applications is used to provide election notification and E – voting for member, then the website is used by admin Land Cruisers Makassar by secretary division.

Keywords: Applicaton, Election, Java, PHP, Android, E-Voting