

ABSTRACT

Accounting Information Systems is a subsystem of a Management Information System that provides accounting and financial information, as well as other information obtained from routine processing of transactions accounting. Teknos Genius still not implementing accounting system either manually (handwritten) or computerized, then Teknos Genius need a system capable of handling the appropriate accounting standards have been determined. Accounting Information Systems that will be created will use the concept of object-oriented programmers on the PHP programming language. For the coding phase of the program that is using CodeIgniter PHP framework. The system that will be created will handle the transaction cash receipts and cash disbursements and finally will produce financial statements includes the income statement, Statement of Owner Equity And balance sheet.

Keywords: Accounting Information Systems, Income Statement, Balance Sheet, Statement of Owner Equity.