ABSTRACT

Payroll accounting information system is an information system that can help the human resource section of department (HRD) and the financial staff to manage employee payroll at PT. Trijaya Garment. Currently, HRD and finance staff in managing the data to generate employee payroll accounting records using Ms. Excel. While the data management to the accounting records with the application can help shorten the time and minimize human error mistakes that may be happen. Therefore, it is necessary to design a web-based accounting information system that can help facilitate the passage hrd and finance staff in data management to the creation of accounting records. Accounting information system can generate payroll cards, payroll reports, journals and ledgers.

Keywords: Accounting Information System of Payroll, Web Based Application