

ABSTRACT

Firdausyiah, Thea. 2016. Editing Fiction Short Film “Please Come To Home” About Cyberbullying. Final Project. Visual Communication Design Departement. Faculty of Creative Industries, Telkom University.

The public now can not be separated with the media social, media social in the community can be commented using social media. The existence of this social media community can comment freely giving rise to the occurrence of cyberbullying. Cyberbullying is the rough treatment of a group of people, which was conducted using electronic help repeatedly and continuously on a target who have difficulty defending themselves. In this design, used in some methods of data collection that is doing the analysis using the phenomenology and the paradigm of psychoanalysis Sigmund Freud that included the study of literature, interviews and observations. Media that is designed in the form of a film that explains the occurrence of cyberbullying. In the film there is one cinematic aspects of editing. Editing was done by an editor who was responsible for cutting off the picture and sound generated from tape. The existences of the editor are expected draw up images based on scenarios to form rangkian of the utterance in the cinematic story-themed fiction film cyberbullying.

Keyword: Cyberbullying, Fiction Film, Editing