

ABSTRACT

The tradition of sending cards welcome usually done with how to send greeting cards through the post office. This tradition is usually done when the feast of Idul Fitri, Christmas celebration and birthday. But this tradition is rarely done because the shipment process takes a long time. The greeting cards application based on Website and android Telkom environment University still exists. Know the problem then propose solutions to the employees, lecturers and students of Telkom University with Android and Web-based applications that can be accessed simultaneously as an alternative to help employees, lecturers and students of Telkom University in send a card welcome. The building blocks of this system using the Java programming language with tools Android Studio, Preprocessor Hypertext programming (PHP) with CodeIgniter framework and the MySQL database, the method used to build this application using the Waterfall method and using a Blackbox testing-testing and User Acceptance Testing. So with the existence of this application students, lecturers and Civil Servants can do activity send greeting card via email, facebook and messages and user (employees, lecturers, students) can provide ratings on the template of a card.

Kata Kunci: (Greeting card, Website, Android)