

ABSTRACT

Student Activity Center is one of supporting facility to embody the student and non-academic civita's activity. To shape learners to be a part of the society, which expected will not only have academic and professional capabilities, but also can applying and developing science, technology, and arts. That's why its facility is needed. The example is Campus Center ITB, its building is in the ITB campus area, architected by Baskoro Tedjo. The main function of the building as a secretariat of student activity units and non-academic services office. However, there are problems such as the facilities are less effective, also standards and aesthetic building that not reflected as a student activity center. To maximize it, redesign interior of Campus Center ITB wants to be done, concerned to student as the main character. Through the application of the selective furnitures, colors, and materials. It's expected can support the student activities, more effective to use and compatible with characteristic of the main student activity center building.

Keywords: Student Centre, Interior, Campus Center ITB, Bandung