

Abstract

Kaleci is a marine game simulation application for all circles based on Desktop. Submission in the application given in the form of types of marbles are used and the types of rules that are often used in game in real life which is useful to know the game marbles well or not.

This simulation application has several features to give the user knowledge about marble game rules as well as the types of marbles. This marbles game simulation application also includes several types of game modes that can be used by users that require the user to choose what type of game to play as well as the display in this mode where the user will feel like playing in the real world.

Kaleci application chose Desktop based platform because to support from the device that is ngetrend in modern era at this time that is Leap Motion. The hope of making the game Kaleci can make the game marbles can be remembered and played back using modern tools.

Key Word : Desktop , Leap Motion , Kelereng