

ABSTRACT

Wali Songo has a strong influence in the process of spreading Islam in Indonesia, especially Java. The struggle to spread the teachings of Islam by Wali Songo on Java is an important historical fact in the record of the spread of Islam in the archipelago. There are many lessons and can be taken from the history of the Wali Songo history in the archipelago. But there is a phenomenon where students consider history lessons boring and uninteresting because the material is still classic or textual. So that makes students do not want to follow the history lesson material. Judging from the above phenomenon the author decided to create a creative and interesting educational media for teenagers in the form of a web comic that contains the historical story of Wali Songo Sunan Gunung Djati on the Line Webtoon application for middle school students. Because comics are a medium that is quite effective in attracting middle school students. In addition, the number of teenagers who are accustomed to using gadgets, this comic is made in a digital format and applied to the Line Webtoon application. In collecting data, this study uses data collection of observations, literature studies, interviews, and questionnaires and uses matrix analysis methods and SWOT analysis methods. It is hoped that this comic can help increase the interest of middle school students in learning the history of the Wali Songo with a more interesting and fun method.
