

ABSTRACT

This research was conducted to determine and analyze the physical work environment, find out the work productivity of employees and the magnitude of the influence of the physical work environment on employee work productivity at office of trade and industry, indragiri hilir.

The research method used in this research is a quantitative method with a type of descriptive-causality research. Sampling was conducted by non-probability sampling method with saturation sampling type, with 48 respondents employees at office of trade and industry, indragiri hilir. Data analysis technique used are descriptive analysis and simple regression analysis.

The results of this study indicate that physical environment variables significantly influence employee work productivity. Therefore, the results of the test of this study state that the independent variable supports the hypothesis that the physical work environment has a significant effect on employee work productivity of 83.3% and the remaining 16.7% is influenced by other factors not examined.

Keywords: Physical Work Environment, Employee Productivity, office of trade and industry, indragiri hilir.