

ABSTRACT

Nowadays, the community is growing in lifestyle with pets. Besides family and friends, domestic pets like dogs and cats become one of the elements to color someone's life. They love pets like their own children so they notice and care about the comfort of their pet's life, such as health, beauty and the pattern of their lives.

There are many clinics and pet shops available in streets, providing food, toys, grooming services, health services and other daily needs for domestic pet care. But most of these clinics and pet shops are relatively less comfortable because the narrow area is used for various activities thus it's unergonomic for employees, visitors/pet owners and for the pets themselves. On the other hand, many domestic pets are desolated or abandoned by their owners for various reasons. There's also a pets that persecuted by their owners for excessive training of attitudes or tricks. Surely this is not good for animals.

In this interior planning, will try to provide domestic animal needs by making a centre of health and protection for domestic pets with a comfortable space organization especially for the animals that come and live in, as well as for the medical personnel and staff to work every day, and also aesthetic to attract visitors to come. Because according to the study says the existence of pets for humans, can give human happiness and health.
