

BOOK DESIGN EDUCATION HISTORY OF RENGASDENGKLOK

ABSTRACT

Rengasdengklok is the name of the District in Karawang which became a historical event related to the peak of Indonesian Independence at that time. The Rengasdengklok conflict was the scene of the kidnapping carried out by several youths towards Soekarno and Hatta who wanted the Proclamation. Along with the development of the times, the next generation seemed to forget the history and forget the value contained in the history of the struggle and sacrifice of the heroes. Until now, the use of media that helps students learn history is still lacking. Karawang government has not fully utilized print media such as educational books that can make students more interested in learning history. From the problems mentioned above, the author seeks to obtain data through observation methods, interviews with informants, and literature studies. Then the data is analyzed using a comparison matrix to produce a design of a history education book. It is hoped that through the historical education book that is packed with interesting students not only invited to understand the history of the struggle that is in Rengasdengklok but also to be more understandable.
