

ABSTRACT
APPLICATION OF EMBELLISHMENT USING MIXED
MATERIAL TECHNIQUES IN FASHION

By :

Neneng Zamzam Sofianty

NIM : (1605164106)

(Craft Studies Program)

Embellishment is an important element in clothing and is widely applied by designers, embellishment is a decorative ornament on clothing that can add aesthetic value, beauty, and can change the characteristics of fashion design. Embellishment began to be mass produced which resulted in the similarity of design, shape and material used not infrequently using what is commonly used for embellishment, so there is an opportunity to develop embellishment variations with mixed material techniques to make it more different and varied, embellishments are processed with surface textile techniques design and combining silky organza material, satin and nets which then embellishment is visualized in the form of flowers, stamp and hot textile techniques can be applied because it can approach the original form, then embellishment will be composed which is then applied to the fashion design.

Keywords : embellishment, mixed material, fashion.