

ABSTRACT

Rama Hadi General Hospital is one of the private class C health service institutions located in Purwakata City, West Java. The beginning of this hospital was established with the type of Special Surgery Hospital in 2009-2015 changed to General Hospital until now. The existence of changes in the type of hospital to make this hospital building must add facilities that must adjust to standards. This hospital is based on zoning, spatial problems that are less ergonomic, narrow circulation and less optimal air conditioning and lighting, making the comfort of hospital users less.

Patient recovery factors are not only from medical factors, but also environmental factors to the patient's condition greatly affect the comfort and healing of patients both to other users such as medical and employees of Rama Hadi General Hospital users.

The interior design concept of Biophilic is in accordance with the location of the hospital in a natural green environment to support the healing environment (Healing Environment). The hospital is expected to improve the comfort and health conditions of all users.

Keywords: General Hospital, Healing Environment, Biophilic Design