

ABSTRACT

Fathima, Alyssa. 2020. Editing Short Movie “Sembunyi Pilu” about Celebrating Birthday Party by bullying among school teenage in Kabupaten Bandung

Celebrating birthdays is something special for some people. Celebrating birthdays by giving cake, gift, etc. is common in Indonesia. However, in reality many negative activities are carried out such as splashing eggs, pouring water or splashing into the pool. This happens a lot in high schools in Bandung Regency. The method used in this design is qualitative research with a narrative method. The narrative method here can see what high school teenagers in Bandung do when celebrating a birthday. See the film reference points for reference to the basic style of film editing techniques. The writer works here post production, so the writer must understand how to make the film look interesting and easy to understand the message content in the film. The technique used is montage style, the shot will be cut short and put together into a continuous collection from one shot to another. Therefore, the film will look attractive and have a good message and impression for the audience.
