The Bandung Regent's Office is a district level government office. Usually the Regent's Office has a Vernacular building form because as a place that can introduce Local Culture in it, it is hereby required that there be cultural elements in the interior design of the Regent's Office building. According to West Java Provincial Regulation Number 13 of 2013 Article 35 paragraph (1) Regarding Buildings, it is stated that any planning for the construction of buildings that have strategic and important values must comply with traditional typology and ornaments. The current New Normal condition creates a new habit or work culture that adapts all human activities and activities due to the Covid-19 phenomenon which requires preventing this virus by making adjustments to office designs that meet office criteria in the new-normal era, in order to speed up handling of Corona. Viruses according to Government Regulation Article 2 paragraph (1) Number 21 of 2020 So with this phenomenon an office design is needed that can support facilities, activities and also user comfort by adjusting the criteria for government offices and also the criteria for new-normal offices at the Bandung Regent's Office in order to maximize the work activities of office users. The methods used in this experiment are literature studies, surveys on similar objects, interviews, precedent studies and data analysis.
