ABSTRACT

The Public health center (Community Health Center) is one of the public health service facilities, the technical implementer of the district / city office which is responsible for carrying out health development in an area. In each puskesmas there are services in the effort to care for pregnant women, maternity mothers, breastfeeding mothers, babies, toddlers and preschool children which are often referred to as Maternal and Child Health services. In supporting data processing activities for Maternal and Child Health (KIA) services at the Makrayu Health Center, an application was made that can assist data processing for pregnant women at the Makrayu Health Center. This application was created because of many problems, namely damage to books, data loss and data accumulation. With this application, it can facilitate officers in processing data and data is stored in the database so that the data is stored properly.

Keywords: Public health center, Maternal and Child Health (KIA), Applications.