

ABSTRACT

During the Covid-19 pandemic, many companies had problems finding freelance workers due to the implementation of physical distancing regulations, so job applicants are prohibited from coming to the company directly. Causing people to have difficulty in finding reliable information about freelance work. This application can help companies find freelance workers according to the provisions dan needs of the company, create job vacancies, share vacancies made to social media. This application is built in a website version, using the Hypertext Preprocessor (PHP) programming language, Codeigniter framework, and using a MySQL database.

Keywords: Freelance, Job Vacancy, Company