

ABSTRACT

Training centers in the era of modern football are very much needed for the training and development of football players to improve good performance in terms of physical, tactical, technical, and understanding as a quality professional football athlete. The majority of big clubs in Europe and the world have private training center facilities because they are aware of the benefits of this training center in addition to training and also to nurture young players who will be sent to various elite competitions in the world.

Persib Bandung is one of the biggest and oldest elite clubs in Indonesia, as an elite football club, Persib Bandung does not yet have a training center infrastructure facility, at this time Persib Bandung is still practicing in separate places and moving around because it does not have private facilities such as a gym. and a proper training ground, so that the training process is not effective because it is not training in the club's private facilities.

At this moment, Persib Bandung is in crisis for local players who are fostered, the majority of Persib's core players are now filled by foreign and naturalized players, including four foreign players and four naturalized players.

By creating this Training Center, it will have a positive impact on the club and Persib Bandung players, besides that this training center facility is not only used for the Persib Bandung core squad, but a long-term project for the development of young players who will later be projected to enter the Persib squad. Bandung in the future.
