

GLOSSARY

Term	Description	Page first used
Access	: Access is an activity to interact with an Electronic System that stands alone or in a network.	2
Android	: Linux-based operating system designed for touch screen mobile devices such as smartphones and tablet computers.	99
Canvassing	: The process of drawing on canvas.	103
Ckeditor	: One kind of library built from javascript to make it easier for user to create a post form / text editor on the form.	55
Coding	: The activity of writing a line of code from a programming language. Its purpose is to communicate with the computer so that the computer can execute your commands.	3
CSS	: CSS stands for Cascading Style Sheet which functions to adjust the appearance of elements written in a markup language. Another function of CSS is to separate content from visual appearance on a website	12
Database	: A collection of information stored in a computer systematically so that it can be checked using a computer program to obtain information from the database. The main use of the database system is that the user is able to construct a view (view) data abstraction.	20
Domain	: A unique name given to identify the name of a computer server such as a web server or email server on a computer network or the internet	11
Feature	: A feature is a specialty or advantage in the technology, which people want to highlight from a product/gadget.	4
Front-end	: a part of a website that displays a display for users. This section was created using HyperText Markup Language (HTTP), Cascading Style Sheets (CSS), and JavaScript. So, a URL can work and display the website properly.	4
Hardware	: Hardware is all types of computer devices or components whose physical parts can be seen with the naked eye and felt directly.	xv

HTML	: Hypertext Markup Language is the standard markup language for documents designed to be displayed in internet browsers. This can be helped by technologies such as Cascading Style Sheets and scripting languages such as JavaScript and VBScript.	12
iOS	: iOS is a hardware operating system from Apple. Initially made only for the iPhone, iOS has since grown to support other Apple devices such as the iPod touch, iPad and Apple TV. Apple does not license iOS for use on other hardware.	99
JavaScript	: High-level and dynamic programming language. JavaScript is popular on the internet and works in most popular web browsers such as Google Chrome, Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Netscape and Opera. JavaScript code can be embedded in web pages using the SCRIPT tag.	12
Modal	: A pop-up window that appears in an application either intentionally or nowadays, many of them are not ordered by the user, but suddenly the modal pop-up appears.	15
Navigation	: The navigation system is a system that guides the vehicle to move from one place to another. There are many navigation systems that are used both for survey purposes and for public purposes.	4
pdf	: Portable Document Format (pdf) is a file format created by Adobe Systems in 1993 for the purpose of exchanging digital documents. The PDF format is used to represent two-dimensional documents that include text, letters, images and two-dimensional vector graphics	49
Plug-in	: Software code with certain functions that allow an application or program to run additional features in that application or program	49
Pop-up	: Graphical user interface (GUI) display area, usually a small window, that appears suddenly in the foreground of a visual interface when user do something, such as select a button or go to a specific page.	63
Project	: A collaborative endeavor and also often involve research or design, which are planned to achieve a specific goal.	4
Responsive	: Responsive Web Design (English: Responsive Web Design (RWD) is a method or approach to a web design system that aims to provide an optimal surfing experience on various devices, both mobile and desktop computers.	3

Server	: A computer system that has special services in the form of data storage. The data stored through the server is in the form of information and various types of complex documents. This service is intended specifically for clients who have a need to provide information for users or visitors.	xiv
Session	: Data stored on a server that can be used globally on that server, where the data specifically refers to a particular user/client, an example of using a session is when the user has logged in on a certain page, then when opening another page, php will remember that the user has logged in.	85
Software	: Data that is formatted and stored digitally with a specific function.	12
Time Out	: when the server computer does not respond/answer the request from the client after a while	68
Tooltip	: A short descriptive message that appears near a view when the user long-presses on the view or hovers the mouse over it. This tooltip is useful if the app uses icons to represent an action or information to save space in the layout.	84
User	: A person who operates, use or view and work within a file or program.	2