

ABSTRACT

The occurrence of globalization in the fields of ethics, culture, and morals poses quite a worrying challenge and influence for parents in teaching and shaping children's character. Schools have a relevant role in teaching character education and Islamic boarding schools are a solution to programs that teach Islamic education optimally. The emergence of these challenges, makes Al Azhar want to develop education into the realm of modern Islamic boarding schools. This idea becomes a new challenge for schools to provide the best curriculum in carrying out their vision and mission that integrates the Qur'an, adab, and science-technology. Islamic education and character education are the main objectives in the Al Azhar International Islamic Boarding School (IIBS) curriculum. The need for space is essentially needed to achieve the spiritual value of students, this needs to be considered in the implementation of an appropriate interior arrangement both physically and non-physically, namely the Islamic values in it. Sometimes this aspect is forgotten in educational design. For this reason, a design process is needed to provide the need for an optimal learning process for the success of the educational goals of Al Azhar IIBS students
