

ABSTRACT

The experience of expressing and being creative in photography has inspired the writer to use one of the photography techniques using bulb technique or known as light art photography (Light Painting). This Light Painting technique is done by moving light to form a image then captured by a camera with a slow shutter speed or bulb mode. Using this technique, the author wants to raise the theme of the seven deadly sins (Seven Deadly Sins) with an expressionism approach through the medium of light art photography. The visual presented is a series of seven photographic works, each of which presents seven deadly sins. In addition to being enjoyed, the audience can take the message from this work and become the best version of ourselves.
