

Abstract

Humans cannot be separated from their relationship with fellow humans and other creatures, for example humans when born into the world, you can say that we need a family hug, then we can take care of it properly and cannot do it alone. Life and death are human nature. Everyone who lives must experience death. Death is considered scary and people are often not ready to accept it. Earth Tone color is a combination of several "earth" colors such as green, brown, blue, and other matching colors. In this Earth Tone color, this Earth Tone color describes humans who came from the ground and will return to the ground. Then also discuss the Earth Tone color outfits used by Millennial Families to create photographic works and Color is a general knowledge theory that is very useful if we study it in any aspect. Because color is also one of the objects that people like the most. One of the focus and the natural need for all components of an object that its presence be felt immediately. That way, in self-study should no longer be a problem. Learning will solve a variety of new environments in creative methods. Photography is one of the tools that can be used to provide usefulness/ideas to the public. Photography forms a tool that can be used to capture a meaningful moment or event. Outfit is something that is used to cover the body in general.

Keywords: Earth Tone Color, Human, Life, Death, Color, Photography, Outfit