

ABSTRACT

PT. Finnet Indonesia is a subsidiary of Telkom, which provides services in the form of electronic-based financial transaction applications. This includes digital start-ups that are struggling in the field of financial technology with the majority of young people needing a comfortable office interior. There is no flexibility in the office layout that suits the employee's work style. the goal is to optimize employee comfort to increase flexibility, productivity, creativity and work motivation. through the application of a pleasant interior atmosphere by presenting an innovative, flexible, and contemporary workspace. This research is a qualitative research with descriptive exposure obtained through interviews with PT. Finnet Indonesia.employee of PT. Finnet Indonesia is a millennial generation, so a working atmosphere is needed that is in accordance with the character of the millennial generation.this report is expected to be an illustration for readers about the process of designing an office, and can be a trigger for the birth of new ideas and ideas in solving problems in designing an office.

Keywords: Start-up, Millennial, Flexible