ABSTRACT

Screamous is a retail company engaged in fashion (clothing) located in the city of Bandung. Every item that enters the supplier will be resold through Screamous store sales. Transactions that occur at this store in the form of product purchases, store sales, expenses expenses. This application is made based on a web that is designed using the Ptototype method using PHP and codeigniter. For making a database using MySQL. The modeling used is to use UML. This application has the functionality to manage master data, manage input transactions for product purchases, product sales, and can generate financial reports.

Keywords: Sales, MySQL, UML