

ABSTRAK

The Office of Highways and Spatial Planning of West Java Province is a government office that handles road and bridge issues and spatial planning in West Java. This service plays an important role in the construction of infrastructure and spatial planning in the West Java province. In this case it is one of the regional offices tasked with carrying out regional government affairs based on the principle of regional autonomy and assisting in the planning and preparation of programs, engineering, development, maintenance and handling of natural disasters and supervision and utilization. With the tasks carried out by the Bina Marga Office and Spatial Planning of West Java Province, it is expected that there will be increased productivity and good cooperation in every field of employment, so that all existing problems can be handled properly. Looking at the existing buildings of the Office of Highways and Spatial Planning of West Java Province office space that better adjusts the space available to existing buildings without paying attention to adjusting space requirements for employees. So that government offices that have the duty to serve the community need infrastructure reforms in office buildings as a manifestation of increasing productivity of work that requires time and movement efficiency by emphasizing efficiency, comfort, security and safety. The condition of this government office is presented as a manifestation of a good government that creates a well-coordinated work system so that it can provide efficient, effective, transparent and communicative services to the aspirations of the community.

Keywords: community service and spatial planning of West Java Province, Government Office, good government