

ABSTRACT

New Interior Design of Bandung City Public Library with Cafe Analogy Approach

Tiara Balqis

1603194161

Interior Design, School of Creative Industries, Telkom University

The library is a place that stores a collection of library books to support the information needs of society, the library not only has an educational function but also has a recreational function. However, it is very unfortunate, currently the public's interest in visiting the library is decreasing because people can access information more easily and quickly via the internet, therefore to be able to keep up with developments in this digital era, conventional libraries need to improve their facilities and services so that they are not abandoned by public. In addition, the library must also strive to build an image as a center for activities and information that is modern and fun. With the development of the lifestyle of today's young generation who like to interact, discuss, do assignments, and even work in cafes, the Bandung City Public Library needs to develop a new design by applying a cafe analogy approach to the Library Café concept which can give a new impression to the library in the form of a place attractive, comfortable and fun. It is hoped that the design of the Bandung City Public Library by improving library facilities and applying the cafe analogy approach can attract people from various groups to visit the library and feel comfortable like in a cafe when doing activities in the library.

Keywords : Library, City Public Library, Library Café