

ABSTRACT

We realize that technology is developing rapidly in the world, this technological advancement has a great influence on human life. Even though technological advances have negative and positive impacts with very clear differences, there are still many people who are not aware of these negative impacts because without us realizing that technological advances greatly affect aspects of human life, with these technological developments it turns out that there are quite a lot of impacts on problems in the right direction. negative and detrimental to human mental health. So the author raises this problem through his final assignment and becomes an art video work entitled In Dreams Our Lie Memories. Through video art media that combines elements of visual art and audio art, it is hoped that the use of video art media can provide messages that are more easily conveyed to the general public and then become a work that will be an effective medium to illustrate that technology is growing rapidly. in this world. Because of that, the author wants to provide a work of video art that has a surreal visual concept and through the medium of video art with the aim of providing a visual picture that technological developments are closely related to the world of hyperreality which in fact has a negative impact on one's mental health.
