Buzzer Visualization of Students' Views in the World of Politics Through Experimental Film Works "Final Project: Fine Arts Study Program, Faculty of Creative Industries, Telkom University"

The making of a short film with an experimental style entitled Control is aimed at depicting the impact of buzzers that spread hoaxes on the internet. This film tells the story of a student who is confused, indecisive and directionless because there is too much information scattered on the internet. This short with an experimental style is expected to understand the message that the author will convey either visually or on the theme raised, by using a mature work concept and taking artist references that are in accordance with the author's aim of making this work good or perfect. Benefits in this work It is hoped that the audience will be aware of the impact of how buzzers can regulate narratives that spread among the wider community and on social media.
