Culture is a way of life that is passed down from generation to generation and needs to be preserved. In Cirebon, tarling art is a typical coastal cultural treasure that reflects the social life of the community. The research entitled "Visualization of Traditional Tarling Music: In the Form of a Documentary Feature" aims to use documentary films to explore and strengthen the values of tarling art. The theories used include documentary film art, visual aesthetics, audiovisual influences, narrative creativity, exploration of subjectivity, and social and cultural influences. The film making process includes pre-production, writing a synopsis, determining duration, ratio, color grading, video production, and shooting.

Keywords : Documentary film, Traditional tarling art, Culture
