

ABSTRACT

This final project is entitled "Representation of Character Differences Between Siblings and Siblings Through Mixed Media Painting". This final project focuses on discussing the issue of character differences between siblings that are influenced by differences in parenting patterns. This work is in the form of a painting that applies the surrealism stream that will represent the differences in character between siblings from family parenting patterns using mixed media. The final project aims to visualize the differences in character between siblings due to family parenting patterns using painting and mixed media. Through this artwork, the author tries to convey a message about the influence of parenting patterns in shaping children's characters and their impact on family dynamics.

keywords: character differences, parenting patterns, surrealism, mix media.