

ABSTRAK

"Final Project: Visual Art Program, Faculty of Creative Industries, Telkom University"

Everyone must have experienced a downturn in their life. Although it may seem trivial, it can become dangerous if ignored for too long. It is essential for individuals to recognize and begin to accept dark events or situations as opportunities for growth. From this idea came the final project titled "Lowbrow Surrealist Work Series 'Orin: The Art of Noticing' as a Reflection of Resilience." This project serves as a space for self-reflection, helping individuals explore their personal reasons and goals in life through two works: a mixed media painting and a toy art figure. These pieces function as a medium for contemplating one's purpose and resilience..

Keywords: Resilience, Life Purpose, Meaning-making, Lowbrow Art