

ABSTRACT

This artwork is titled Visualization of Seeing Life Through Strings with Installation Art aiming to explore the themes of life, purpose, and time through installation art. Utilizing silkscreen and stencil techniques, this piece consists of two screens depicting two different conditions: one screen shows a dry tree symbolizing the loss of purpose, while the other screen displays a lush tree representing the achievement of life goals. With strategic lighting, this artwork creates a profound visual experience for the audience, inviting them to reflect on their life journey and the meaning behind each choice made. Through this work, the author hopes to inspire individuals who feel lost in their life direction.
