दुःखान्तरं सुखम्।

“Just as night is followed by day, suffering too shall be followed by joy. In dharma, patience and perseverance are the keys to enlightenment.”

(Bhagavad Gita)

“The journey toward your dreams will not always be smooth or free of obstacles.

Yet, every challenge is part of your karma and a lesson in life. Embrace the process, strengthen your resolve, for sincere effort will eventually bear sacred and proud rewards.”

I wholeheartedly dedicate this final project to my beloved parents, Mr. I Nyoman Widia Darma and Mrs. Made Ayu Susilawati, and to my dear sister, Made Ayu Diah Anindya Dharma. Thank you for your unconditional love, prayers, and unwavering support throughout every stage of my journey. You have been my greatest inspiration and the driving force behind my efforts to overcome every challenge and pursue every dream. I also dedicate this work to my grandparents whose prayers, wisdom, and enduring love have always guided and strengthened me.

My gratitude extends as well to my uncle and aunt, who have acted as my second parents, Mr. Wayan Eka Nugraha and Mrs. Pande Putu Yuniarti. Your care, support, and kindness have meant so much to me and have greatly helped me during my academic journey. My heartfelt appreciation also goes to my best friends from the Roemah Reod house, who have become like family to me, and to all my best friends in Bali who have shared this journey with me, offering support, motivation, and laughter.

This final project is more than just a requirement for graduation; it is a symbol of my gratitude for all the sacrifices, prayers, and love I have received. I dedicate every achievement and milestone in this journey to all of you, who have always stood beside me. May God continue to bless you with happiness, health, and endless grace.
